

How Well Are You Feeding Your Companion Animal on a Scale From 1 – 10?

Adapted from Dr.Marty.com, Where Natural Healing Begins Q & A website page

IN ORDER FROM BEST TO WORST

1. Fresh, Raw "Correctly Made" Homemade Diet, Raw Meaty Bones with added vitamin/mineral supplement, salmon oil, & other additives OR Commercial Raw Foods such as Bravo Raw Diet or Nature's Variety.
2. Fresh, Cooked "Correctly Made" Homemade Diet with added vitamin/mineral supplement, salmon oil, calcium supplement, and other additives

We carry many excellent prepared RAW diets & supplements. We also offer Homemade Diet Consulting!

3. Grain Free - Ultra Premium Commercial Canned Foods (meat is the first ingredient) such as Nature's Variety Instinct, Canine Caviar and Before Grain Brands w/ some fresh, raw foods from your kitchen & some additives.

We offer a nice selection of grain free canned products where meat is the #1 ingredient.

4. Grain Free - Ultra Premium Commercial Canned Foods (meat is the first ingredient) such as Nature's Variety Instinct, Canine Caviar and Before Grain Brands w/ some fresh, cooked foods from your kitchen & some additives.

5. Grain Free - Ultra Premium Commercial Canned Foods & additives (if needed) without anything fresh, raw or cooked, from your kitchen.

6. Canned Foods containing grains such as Merrick Brand and Nature's Variety.

7. Super Premium Grain Free Dry Kibble such as Instinct by Nature's Variety, Fromm Surf & Turf, Timberwolf Ocean Blue, or Canine Caviar Venison & Split Pea.

Our dry food selection includes top of the line grain free options. We encourage adding a canned or raw product to a dry food.

8. Premium Canned Foods – water is the #1 ingredient, meat by-products are used, and they contain a significant amount of grains and potentially chemical preservatives.

9. Super Premium Dry Kibble containing grains such as Innova, Prairie, Canidae, and Timberwolf (w/ grains)

10. Grocery Store or Generic Brands of Canned or Dry Kibble type food – contain very little meat, are made w/ meat by-products, contain grain and grain by products, use rendered meat (meat that came from condemned animals/animals not fit for human consumption, contain artificial colors, flavors and chemical preservatives)
